Old age, which used, to come gradually and be in no particular historic begin its visible progress, base eccurity caught the spirit of the time antiacranted upon some people at a gallering once. The fault is with the victims themselves. The life-endurance of any given person is fixed by inture, and the man who draws most largely and steadily upon his physical capital must be the first to display gray hairs and discover chronic bodily weaknesses. In New York any one can find scores of men who at thurty-

bonny weaknesses of men who at thurtyive have whitening heads and nerves that need "bracing" at short intervals overy day Whether they reach this condition by too much work or too much play (of the kind that uncharitable per ons call dissipation), the indications of hastening ago are equally significant. How is the progress of the destroyer to be arrested?
Muny physicisns in New York are levoting themselves to the task of pro longing the lives of persons who are not ill, yet have began to wear away too rapidly Among the practitioners who study the subject carefully, there seems to be but little difference of method. Their first and hardest work is to conthere their patents that it is dangerous to live "fast"—a word which has a special significance which makes it absolutely insulting to many eminently respectable transgressors of the laws of health. It seems impossible to persuade a merchant who does more work in one hour than his best clerk can do in three, that ic is guilty of fast living and dis-sipation, even if he never drinks a drop and refrans from all improper pleasures. The lawyer or broker who accomplishes wonders in the morning, but feels a sense of "goneness" early a the afternoon, cannot be made to be lieve that part of him is literally "gone," and that if he urges himself beyond that point without first taking a little rest, he expends vitality with frightful inpidity Ladies who, between house hold cures religious drives and social responsibilities, are steadily active from eight in the moining until midnight, sometimes wonder why they lose the freshness of youth, while some of their sex, whom they occasionally see, but would not for worlds speak to, preserve face and figure in spite of lives of which the less sud the better

But when these, as well as less inno-cent classes are convinced that they are this ing too inpully, and physicians begin to ariest the idvance of age by uiging rest. No practit oner of high standing now presently one of high standing now presently a standing to any persons not really ill, excepting those who are absolutely compelled to more excition than is good for them. Short periods of relaxation throughout the day are always found beneficial, some business men have been greatly belied. by dropping upon a lounge for five minutes in every hour or two, they may not cannot stop thinking, but there scems great relief in morely assuming incombent position for a little while During the recent civil war a general whose men were noted for coming out of a hard march in line tighting condi-tion, attributed his success to his imper ativo order that his men should he down whenever a halt was ordered Regular and full hours for sleep are also insisted upon, and until the patient endervois to adhere closely to the ale he does not begin to comprehend how naturo's great restorative is diminished in quantity by the demands of business Ditching Contract

A Long List of Prominent Men Aircady In the Procession - More to Follow.

Br. Louis, Mo., June 12, -- A movement was langurated among the business men of the city to secure representation in the Democratic National Convention An Address circulated on 'Change for balf an hour this morning received the signatures of the most influential mendo commercial life in St. Louis, and many more will undoubtedly add their efforts to the movement, now already too strong In he Ignored The document and name nttached speak for themselves: THE PETTION.

I's the Immore Public: It is of supremo importance to the lusiness interests not only of St. Louis but of the entire country that they should not be ignored in the matter of selecting a camblidate for the Presidency. Without discussing here the character of the nomline of the Republican party, it is at once our duty and our interest to see as far as ne can that no mistake possibly fatal to the public wolfare should be made on the other side. To attempt anything without representation in the National Conventhin is usole is and footish and would surely result as did the efforts of the More York business men who attempted to work ontside the Republican Conven-tion in failure. We must have repre-mentation in the Convention and that we may have it we must not together. All interes men having at heart the voltare of the business interests of the city and of the country itself are invited to co-The cost is securing this representation."
The cost is signed by fifty-seven names, most of which represent influential Democrate, but therefore a number of them who represent the disaffected Republican denorm, therman and American, who desire a candidate chosen for whom they vote in preference to Illaine. It ngs said among them in discussing messeman for delegate-at-large, they would not think of pitching on one whose democracy could be questioned. The movement originated so suddenly and Murder Trial at Lincoln. LINCOLN, ILL., June 13 -The third day of the Mt Polaski triple murder tital has been devoted to the examination of witnesses by the prosecution. David Long, the "pigeon," was subjected to more than three hours' examination, but his testimony was unshaken. The Everett House confession was confirmed by a traveling man named George W. Griswold and H. F. Lushbaugh, a peweler for Mt. Pulaskl, who by ar-rangement occupied an adjoining room to Hall and Long, and stood on a table and heard all the conversation be-tween them. It was to the effect that he (Hall) had put up the job on Charles McMahon, and speaking of the kulte bought during the day, he said he thought it was a better one than the one he had to throw away after the affair; lamented the fact that the weight of It on his mind made him appear lifteen years older, and con-gratulated bimself on meeting one in whom he could confide.

Sarah Marshall, of Bunker Hill, an in-timate friend of Belle Hall, one of the defendants, had visited her in Springfield and been told by her that she had made some gags for Hall. He told her he wanted to use them breaking some colts, and reproved herself with quarreling with her husband and referring to the murder in the presence of Long, who she had afterward learned had given him away and caused his arrest

Witnesses were introduced to break down the proposed alibi of Wm. Ferris and to show that he left Staunton, Macoupin County, for Logan County the Friday before the murder, and that he said he was going after money. Witnesses said he was at the charlyarl, but it was on Thursday instead of Monday night as claimed by the defense. The preponderance of evidence will probably have to settle the difference, and at best leaves but a narrow margin. The prosecution expect to conclude by noon to over an assassination which took place at one o'clock in the morning. There lives on Ezzard street the family of Mr. Charles Rose, Yardmaster of the Line Road. Wednesday evening he left his family, consisting of his wife, baby and blooming country cousin. Miss Numny Frazer, all in good health. At one o'clock Miss Frazer gave the alarm of murder. Her statement was that she was in a sound sleep, from which she was awakened by what seemed to be the strik-ing of a match. Immediately a masked man ran through her room, blew out the light and jumped through a back window and escaped. Miss Frazer called to her friend, but received no answer. Relighting her lamp she went into Mrs. Rose's room, where a horrifying sight met her gaze. There lay the child fairly covered with blood, beside it the mother, stretching out in the agony of death, with a builet hole through her brain. Miss Frazer caught the dying lady's hand, which gave a slight pressure, house was filled with officers, and later the husband made his appearance it was ascertained that a box had been placed under the win-dow, upon which the murderer stood while he cut away the putty and removed two pieces of glass, through which he entered the house. Mr. Rose's pistol lay on the mantel-piece. This the murderer the pistol to her temple, fired and ran. A WOMAN IN THE CASE. When daylight appeared the mystery was increased by the discovery that there must have been two persons connected with the crime, a man and a woman. There were steps to and from the rear fence to the window, as if a woman had been keeping watch while the man was doing his work inside. Bloodhounds were placed upon the trail, but the scent was cold, a slight rain having fallen, and the hounds refused to follow. The Coroner summoned a jury of twelve leading citizens. While waiting for a meeting of that body who committed the crime must have been familiar with every detail of the house, and supleion began to be directed against the husband. So strong did this feeling become that there were many who urged that a short shrift was the best remedy for him. A burglar would have gone there armed, and would not have discovered so readily a weapon in the house he was entering. No one but an inmate could have opened the window in manner in which it was done, and yet this theory would throw complicity upon Miss Frazer was it not for a woman's steps on the outside, which argued that it must have been some other woman. The story of Miss Frazer before the Coroner's Jury mystilled them, and yet there was no room to charge her with guilt. Finally it was developed that Rose Quincy High School. Quincy, ILL., June 13.—The commence ment exercises of the Quincy High School took place yesterday morning, commencing at nine a'clock, and, as usual, were witnessed by an immense assemblage of friends of the graduates. Several features are worthy of note. Comparing this year's commencement with previous ones there was not the customary display of Atravagant bouquets, wreaths, etc. The floral offerings were modest, inexpensive and much more appropriate than those usually bestowed on such occasions. This was done by order of the Board of Education The exercises began with an appropriate prayer by Rev's Mr. Dana. The salutatory was delivered by Miss Anna Kordsieman The award of diplomas and presentation of the Morgan silver medats for general ex-cellence were made by Dr. Corbyn. His well-known popularity and his industry as a canvasser will in-sure his election by at least 5,000 majority. The enthusiasm at the mention of Tilden's name was immense. May 29-dlwawlmo THANKING THE MAYOR Discussing the Situation.

A number of well-known citizens held long conference in the law office of the Milla Bros. vesterday afternoon. It was attended by Messra Jesse Leforgee, Mosee Stafford, A. W. Conklin, W. R. Soruggs, W. H. Grindol, H. W. Hill, M. E. Schroeder, R. L. Walston, David S. Shellabarger, Martin P. Murphey, Alderman Wayne, of the first ward, Aldermen Starr and Roberte, of the third ward.

The main object of the meeting, which was not public, was to discuss the situaation with reference to city affairs, and if possible arrive at some conclusion as to what should be done, After a full interchange of views, it was agreed that the thanks of the citizens should be extended the mayor and members of the council for the stand they had taken Tuesday night in revoking the liquor licenses, and that they should receive the assurance of the public who have the good of the city at heart, that they would be supported in my efforts they might make as to enforcing the law. The REPUBLICAN reporter was not present at the meeting, but he learns from a reliable source that the above was the result of the long confer-It was arranged that a committee of citizens should wait upon Mayor Chambers at his home, and last night at nine o'clock the following named gentlemen met at an appointed place: Messrs. D. S Shellabarger, A. W. Conklin, Amos Conklin, Charles Conklin, L. B. C. Lefling well, Moses Stafford, W. H. Grindol, H W. Hill, Martin P. Murphey and W. R. Scruggs. They proceeded in a body to the home of the Mayor who received them hospitably, though he didn't know of their coming or the object of their visit. The gas was turned on and the parlors were lighted for the reception of the viertors. The spokesman of the committee was Mr. Scruggs who informed Mayor Chambers that the occasion of the visit was simply an impromptu expression of himself and the gentlemen present of their sympathy with the Mayor and their appreciation of himself and the council for their act in revoking the liquor license at the Tuesday night meeting, and also to give the Mayor the earnest expression of the citizens that they will assist him is upholding the laws and in the enforce ment of the ordinances of the city.

Mayor Chambers conversed pleasantly with the gentlemen and thanked them for their visit, but as the reporter is informed made no expression of what he would do in the fature. The gentlemen engaged in a general chat and in a few moments departed.

The Lutz Recital. The music store of Lutz & Wise, postoliico block, was crowded last night to witness the first recital of Mrs. S. M. Lutz's class in vocal and instrumental music. It was an excellent entertainment and was accorded mented praise. The following programme was observed: PAUT 18T.

They Didn't Serve. As a matter of justice, it should b stated that neither E. A. Gastman Thomas Hays, W. E. Bingham or Jesse Leforgee served on the committee on res olutions appointed at the "indignation" meeting at the tabernacle last Wednes day night. Capt. Post named A. Wait a chairman of the committee. He went pehind the scenes from the audience room but no one followed him except J. Steb bins King. Within two minutes, the resolutions as published yesterday, were presented by Wait and read by A. F. Smith. The other four members of the committee did not consult with Mr. Wait after the chairman named the committee This statement is made solely for the purpose of informing the public of the facts

Died of Heart Disease. The well-known tailor, W. K. Ward died suddenly yesterday evening of heart disease at his home at 717 West Eldorado street. After the dinner hour he appeared in his usual health, but on returning from the garden after a short walk he complained of pain in his heart. He passed away before anything could be done for bim. Mr. Ward, who leaves a widow, was the father of John Ward, porter at the New Deming, Charley Ward and William Ward. The deceased was born in Urbana, Champaign county, Ohio. In 1865 he removed to Decatur. In 1880 he removed to Williamsport, Ind., but returned to Decatur in 1883. He leaves a wife and three sons. His age was 63 years and 17 days. Mr. Ward was an Odd Fellow for many years, and at the time of his death was a member of a lodge at Urbana, Ohio. The funeral will take place from the Presbyterian church to-morrow afterneou at 2 o'clock,

The City Council There will probably be another special meeting of the city council early next week, when the sidewalk ordinance now confined to his home for a period of eight in the hands of the committee will be reported and acted upon. Attempt to Wreck a Train. MONTICELLO, Ill., June 12.-A destardy attempt to wreck a persenger train on the Wabsah road came to light here last evening. A few moments before the north-bound passenger train passed through a switch-lock was found to have been broken and the switch partly opened, so that a train passing either way would have been wrecked. It occurred in a deep cut out of sight of the depot. Great diseaser was thus perrowly marked. The disaster was thus parrowly averted. The guilty parties are unknown.

The Spelling School.

About 200 people attended the W. O. T. U. spelling school entertainment giver at the tabernacle last night. It caused much merriment. There were about 30 spellers on the floor, who were chosen by Josiah Espy and Bart Tyler, respectively. Edwin Philbrook was the spelling master who gave out the words. Tyler's side was spelled down first, and Joe Espy's class came out ahead. The champion speller of the evening was Miss Minta Fulton, who get the prize, a small spelling book.

Josiah and Bart first stood up land spelled against each other singly. Bart went down first on the word "sterility," and Joe was victor; but at last he spelled tweezers" wrong and had to surrender

The chief ousmess of the afternoon was the payment of the county's share for the construction of the new Cow Ford bridge, which was about $2,800. Long Creek township will pay the other half of the bill. The Crops.

The latest reports received at the Illinote department of agriculture show the area of the growing crop of corn to be a fraction less than it was lest season. The condition in the northern counties is somewhat better than at the corresponding dates in 1881, 1882 and 1883. In the central division the corn looks better than on June 1, 1882 or 1883. A large corn crop is promised from the southern counties, and on drained land generally. There has been no delay from rains in planting and cultivating corn on thed

COUNTY LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS.

The Macon County Lodge of Good Templare met at Harristown Thursday with five lodges represented. Routing businees was despatched interspersed with music. Resolutions endorsing the reso lutions of the citizens' meeting las Wednesday night were adopted

Resolved, That this county lodge vaces

the unanimous sentiment of the Good Templars of Macon county by a hearty endorsement of the resolutions adopted by the citizens' mass meeting at Decatur on the night of June 11, 1884, condemn-ing the official trenchery of J. C. Lake. through which dramshop license was emporarily secured and expensive litiga tion made probable.

Resolved, That if the people of Decatur desire to retain the respect of the general public, they must take vigorous and ener getic action to maintain the verdict o the voters of the city.

Resolved, That as citizens of Macon county we earnestly protest against any cowardly and bumiliating compromise with lawlessness such as the granting o high license.
